Prior to her Yoga Teacher Trainings, Lynne studied Massage Therapy at Mount Royal University and quickly recognized a dedication and love for natural healthcare and healing. A passion for learning and personal evolution, brought Lynne around the world in search of balance, health and authenticity. Today in addition to teaching Yoga/Meditation, Lynne is a Public Speaker and Patient Care Facilitator/Chiropractic Assistant at Beacon Hill Chiropractic and Massage. Lynne leads a team of over 20 Clinicians dedicated to changing lives through inspiration, education and compassionate healthcare. Lynne regularly hosts Workshops, Classes and retreats to support personal development and creating connection with our true selves.

Topic Summary: Finding Balance

The human body is a fascinating machine. Constantly creating chemical reactions that prepare us for exactly what our bodies may need at any given moment. Today the sensory input we receive continuously is significantly greater than we have ever been exposed to before. The human body is meant to temporarily endure stresses and react accordingly to ensure survival and safety. This fight or flight response is meant to save our lives, not sustain it. Join me as we explore our patterns and understand how to invite balance, counteracting the stress response and bringing health into every aspect of our daily lives.

Possible competencies: i-5-1, i-5-2, i-5-3, i-5-4

3:00pm: President's Address and Door Prizes
